

COVID-19 COO DILEMMA : 5 KEY DRIVERS TO DECIDE BETWEEN PAUSING OR RESTARTING

Written collaboratively by Sébastien Cailliau, Nicolas Comte, Arnaud Guerin and Olivier Paget, Partners and Principals at CYLAD Consulting

April 2020

*Sébastien
Cailliau
Partner*

*Nicolas
Comte Principal*

*Arnaud
Guerin
Principal*

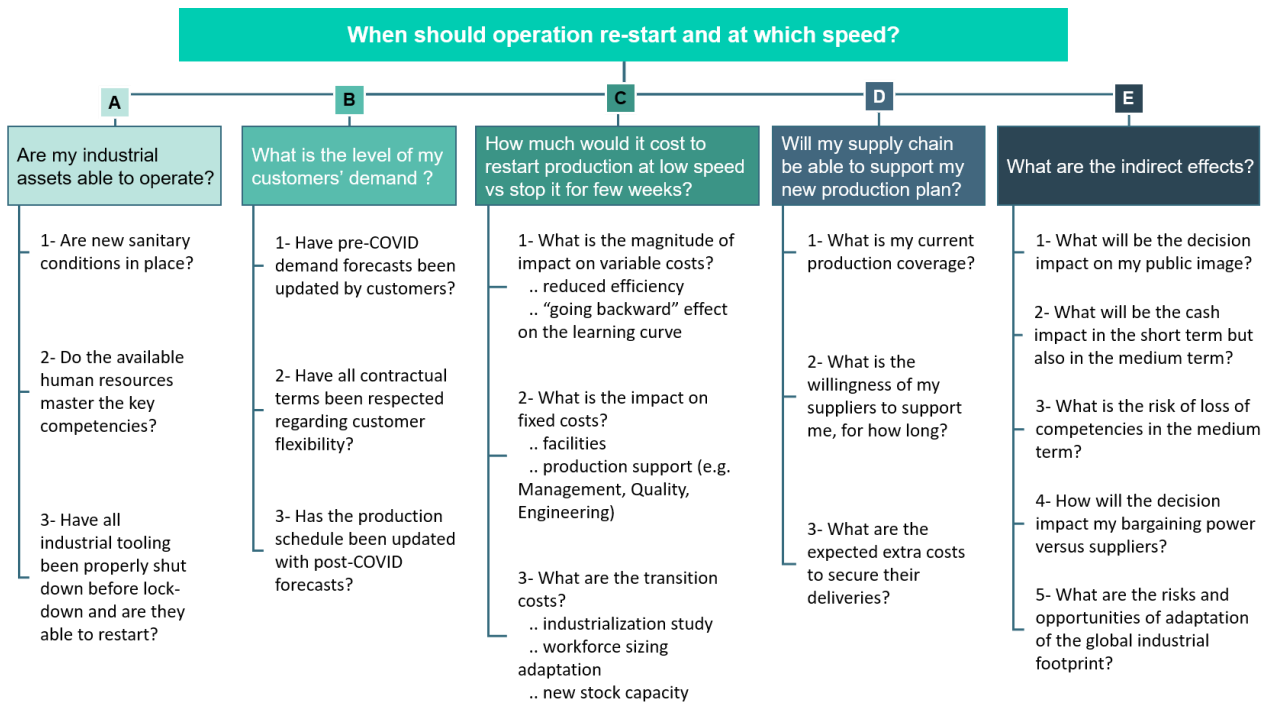

*Olivier
Paget
Partner*

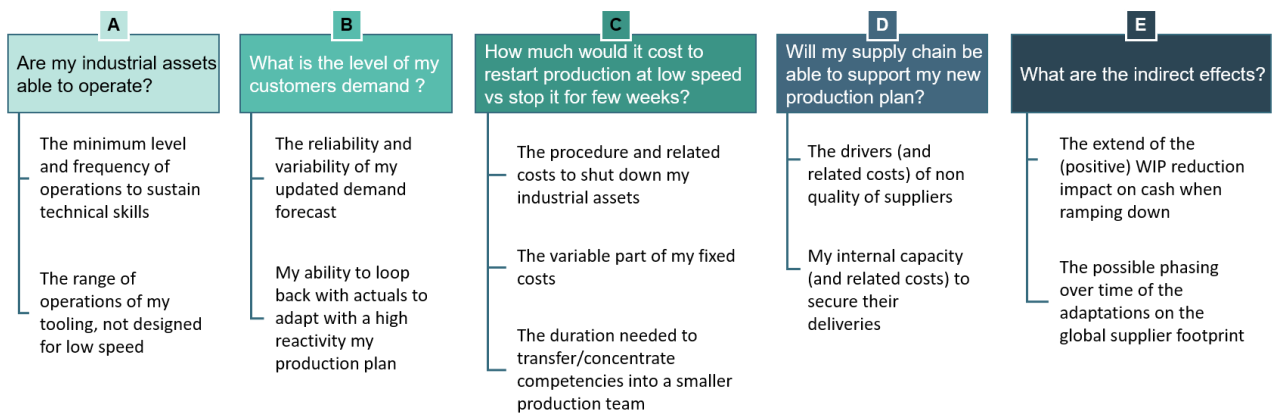

The sanitary aspect of Covid19 crisis has hit suddenly the operations of most industrial companies. After facing this first phase of the crisis, in some cases with production and operations stopped or highly disturbed, COOs of industrial companies are now in front of major questions: When should I restart operations and at which speed?

Here are some keys to solve the Covid19 COO dilemma.

COO's reflection could be structured around 5 pragmatic questions that address the current major challenges:

Behind these questions, some key parameters are at stake and should drive the COO decisions:

Once the decision is taken, the COO shall maintain a regular cross-functional governance to adapt if needed the selected scenario to the constantly evolving situation. This will enable him to perform a close surveillance of these key parameters and make the necessary adjustments in a very agile way.

CYLAD can be your hands-on business partner and support your crisis and restart management. Let us talk about it.

